

Shoot Straight TV Schearer Biographies

About Chad:

Chad Schearer wears several hats in the outdoor industry besides his signature black western hat. Chad is the host of Shoot Straight with his wife Marsha and sons Walker and Wyatt who co-host the show. Shoot Straight airs on Pursuit Channel, and CBS Montana. Chad is a freelance outdoor writer and photographer. His work and or photos have been published in numerous outdoor magazines including Outdoor Life, Field & Stream, American Hunter, and Peterson's Hunting. Chad conducts over 50 seminars a year at sport shows, Cabela's and church Sportsmen's dinners. During his career he has conducted over 1000 seminars on hunting and fishing across the United States. Chad has also won every major elk calling competition in the world, including the Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation -- Pro Division World Elk Calling Champion. Wanting to get more people involved in the sport of elk calling, and has judged the World Elk Calling Championships. Besides being a Montana outfitter and guide for over 25 years Chad loves traveling to new destinations in search of adventure. He has called and harvested game around the world in hunting spots such as Zimbabwe, New Zealand, Hawaii, Argentina, Alaska, the Arctic, South Africa, Canada, and many states in North America. Chad is recognized by many national outdoor product manufacturers such as Realtree Camo, Buck Knives, CVA Muzzleloaders, and Ambassador for Cabela's to name a few.

More important than all of the hunting and fishing success he has had; Chad is a husband to Marsha, who loves to hunt, and a father to their two sons Walker & Wyatt

About Marsha:

Marsha Schearer is the co-host of Shoot Straight with Chad Schearer. She has been a Licensed Montana Professional Guide for over 18 years and has hunted from the Arctic to Africa. Marsha was appointed as the first lady to the CVA Pro Staff and has consulted on several manufactures products from a ladies viewpoint.

Marsha is an experienced outdoor writer, photographer and videographer. She also conducts several seminars nationally each year. Marsha has judged the Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation's World Elk Calling Championships.

Many people have enjoyed Marsha's cooking as a camp cook and this has turned into her featured segment on Shoot Straight each episode called Recipe's from the Field.

You don't doubt for a second getting women involved in the outdoors is her true passion. But just as important to her is getting the next generation involved in hunting and fishing. She shares her passion with their sons Walker and Wyatt.

Lets just say there isn't enough room to list what Marsha really does for Chad & Shoot Straight Television.

About Walker Schearer:

Walker Schearer co-hosts Shoot Straight TV and is 16 years old. He has hunted from Africa to Hawaii and several places in between. He took his first turkey and mule deer at age 6.

Walker also took his first bull elk at age 9. A nice 6 point bull.

Walker Schearer grew up traveling around the world with his parents to hunting and fishing destinations. Walker was a couple months old when he spent his first night in a tent. He has traveled from Africa to the Arctic Circle before he was 5 years old. Walker took his first turkey at age 6 and his first bull elk at age 9. A beautiful 6 point. Walker loves bird hunting and has several well trained bird dogs. In fact, he has started his own kennel called Big Sky Bird Dogs where he raises and trains Labrador Retrievers and English Springer Spaniels. Walker also has a passion for fly fishing and and has fished from Alaska to Mexico.

Walker loves to hunt his home state of Montana. He has taken animals with a bow, muzzleloader and a rifle with his highlight being a 179-5/8" mule deer.

About Wyatt:

Wyatt Schearer co-hosts Shoot Straight TV and is 15 years old. He has also hunted Africa, Hawaii and other states as well. He harvested his first turkey and whitetail deer at age 5.

Wyatt has harvested several turkeys and at age 10 completed his grand slam of turkeys.

Wyatt has won numerous elk calling competitions at the ISE Best of the West Elk Calling Competition. He also placed 2nd in the World Elk Calling competition.

At age 15 he has taken a number of elk with his rifle and bow. When he isn't hunting or fishing you will find him working cows with our neighbors and other local ranchers. Wyatt is passionate about his horses and loves team roping. He spends hours roping and riding and is training his latest colt Rango.

Walker and Wyatt are both members of the CVA National Junior Pro Staff and also the Junior Pro Staff for Buck Knives along with being Ambassadors for Cabela's!
